

AI-ready 5G Laptops

Future-proof your business devices

To help IT leaders manage the end of support for Microsoft Windows 10 and the need to securely integrate new Copilot AI experiences into their business processes, Blue Mantis can upgrade your devices with managed Lenovo Windows 11 laptops, equipped with T-Mobile 5G connectivity.

5G connectivity that's AI-optimized

Blue Mantis, with our partners at Lenovo and T-Mobile, are delivering a new class of Windows 11 devices with the seamless, secure, and reliable 5G connectivity required by Copilot and other AI models. We combine the latest AI-ready hardware from Lenovo with the nation's largest and fastest 5G network from T-Mobile into a simple "device as a service" solution to empower your team to stay connected and highly productive anywhere they choose to work.

Elevate your wireless security

Remote workers relying on unsecured Wi-Fi networks is a risk no IT leader can afford. Blue Mantis builds a zero-trust security framework into every 5G-enabled Lenovo laptop, with additional SIM-based SASE from T-Mobile's T-Sim Secure technology for an added layer of protection without sacrificing productivity. We can either monitor and manage it all for you or give you the tools to do it yourself—your choice.

Reduce costs & invest in innovation

You're not just upgrading to Windows 11 laptops with 5G and AI, you're investing in a future-proof solution that reduces IT costs. Blue Mantis delivers full lifecycle management from our state of the art Technology Innovation Center to procure, test, and ship your 5G-enabled laptops to employees so they're ready to be productive right out of the box.
